

CALIFORNIA JPIA WORKSHOP DESCRIPTION

The demands on local governments are increasingly complex and challenging, requiring leaders to be more effective and accountable in an era of limited resources. This 3 day academy, limited to 30 participants and held in a hotel setting away from the office, is designed to respond to these demands by expanding the ability of managers and leaders to think strategically and apply skills that will enable them to achieve effective, sustainable results.

With senior management in mind, the academy offers topics to facilitate growth in the individual. The workshops are practitioner-focused and designed to enhance organizational effectiveness. Attendees are provided with strategies to identify "Problems Lying in Wait," increase and realize the benefits of trust, and enhance the effectiveness of their communication internally and externally.

THE FOLLOWING TOPICS WILL BE COVERED

- Developing Trust in an Organizations
- Discovering the Efficient and Economic Power of Trust
- Strategizing the Leader's Role in Budget and Finance
- Identifying Problems and Applying Control Measure
- Designing and Delivering Effective Presentations
